The Texas 200 Sailing Club, Inc., Shiner Beer, their boards of directors, officers, employees, agents, volunteers, sponsors, advertisers, contractors and subrogors (hereinafter TEXAS200), wishes to inform our entrants that sailing, boating, paddling, kayaking, power boating and camping outdoors, (hereinafter Boating) are not risk free. The same elements that contribute to the unique character and fun of Boating and the Texas 200 such as the physical exertion or the settings can cause loss or damage to equipment, injury, illness, or in extreme cases, permanent trauma, or death. We do not want to heighten or reduce your enthusiasm for the experience, but we do want you to know in advance what to expect, and to be informed of the possible risks. We ask that you read this, sign it, and return it to us at the mandatory Captain's Meeting prior to the event.

EXPRESS ASSUMPTION OF THE RISK

There are risks that accompany all aspects of life as well as Boating. Some of these risks are inherent in the activity; some are changed, increased or decreased due to the activities of TEXAS 200. You must understand and accept all the risks of the activity, inherent and others.

The Bay and the Ocean (hereinafter Water) are fun and exciting, relaxing, refreshing and at the same time they can turn hazardous, violent and can be deadly. Swimming, boating, sailing and kayaking are fun and exciting sports as well as strenuous physical activity. Whenever you are around the Water always wear the personal floatation device (PFD) / life jacket appropriate for the type of water, conditions and Boating you are doing.

There may be waves or swells on this event. Sailors, captains, crew and passengers can be jolted, bounced, and otherwise shaken, thrown around the boat, into the boat or other items or thrown overboard while Boating through these waves or swells. It is possible you could be injured if you hit equipment or other objects on the boat or off the boat. Equipment may break or malfunction causing loss of property or injury. Participants can be washed overboard, fall or be thrown overboard in the waves or swells, which can result in any of the above events occurring.

Boats may turn over in the waves or swells, or in calm water. Participants may have to float or swim, causing prolonged exposure to cold leading to hypothermia, injury, or death. Injuries can be sustained after you are in the water such as from items floating in the water, the surf or the bottom or shore. Drowning is always a possibility whenever you are around water.

Accidents can occur getting on and off a boat: (a) boats are slippery when wet. You might slip and fall, in which case you might damage or lose equipment you are carrying (such as cameras, glasses, a canteen or day pack), or you might injure yourself by falling against some object in or on the boat, or on the shore. (b) Boats become hot in the sun, you might burn yourself when you climb aboard or sit on the side or in the boat. (c) Boats may drift a distance from the shoreline when you are trying to climb on or off; you might fall in the water, or drop equipment overboard. (d) You may be asked to help push the boat from shore into deeper water. You could injure your back, over-stress your heart, or otherwise injure yourself in doing so. (e) You may be asked to help with tying the boat when you pull into shore. Sometimes the water is rough and the rope could pull through your hands causing "rope burns" or abrasions. (f) You might trip over rocks, stumps, shells or other debris on shore while trying to hold the boat or tie it to a suitable object or anchor the boat. (g) Exposure to the natural elements can be uncomfortable or harmful. Heat, sunburn, dehydration, heat exhaustion, heat stroke, heat cramps, wind, rain, the outdoors, using portable toilet facilities, eating meals out-of-doors, being in the open for the extended length of the trip can be uncomfortable or cause injury or illness. (h) Environmental risks include insects, snakes, predators, including alligators, rattlesnakes and wild boar and other animals. Lightning, avalanches, flash floods, and unpredictable forces of nature, including weather that may change to extreme conditions without notice are all possible during the event.

Boating includes a high degree of risk for hypothermia. Being wet and in the wind contributes to hypothermia. You need to understand hypothermia and to have adequate and the correct clothing to combat hypothermia. Hypothermia can quickly result in death.

As a sailor participating in this event you will be totally responsible for your own movement and safety while on the water or shore. This requires physical exertion as well as emotional and mental stability. You will be solely responsible for your own rescues. The Texas 200 Sailing Club Inc. (Texas200), will not be available to assist you in a rescue due to the inherent nature of the sport. You are solely responsible for your safety and any rescue.
